"We worked with Jurupa earlier this year and we had a very positive experience. I won't feed Aaron's ego too much but I've had some shocking experiences with recruiters in the past and Aaron and his team were excellent. They worked very hard to find the right people for us, took the time to understand Rally's position in the market, competitors, essential skills required, culture and needs. They also took a lot of the grunt work away from us, advised on salary levels, shared things that were inhibitors to getting the right candidates on board, and in general acted in a committed, professional and constructive way. We got great people at the end of it all, too!"

"Having worked with Aaron in the past when building an early stage team in Europe, he and the team at Jurupa were instrumental in successfully identifying a new career opportunity for me in 2015 with Ixia Technologies. Jurupa handled the process very efficiently with prompt & regular communication and guidance in between the various stages; the end result is an excellent new role which meets all of my expectations and fully utilises my own personal value proposition. Kudos to the team at Jurupa."

Andrew Donaldson
Senior RSM UK & Ireland at Ixia Technologies

"Aaron is my go to recruiter in EMEA. He does his research, is personable, and a pleasure to work with. His focus is on finding qualified candidates who fit both technically and culturally and he presents them fully screened and ready to interview. I trust Jurupa to always find the best talent for our needs."
