

Bespoke career research solutions from Jurupa.

“The best roles are often hidden and rarely advertised”

At Jurupa, we know that busy executives seldom have sufficient bandwidth to scour the market, shake trees and call in favours to secure their next career move. Let Jurupa take care of it so that you can remain focused on what you do best.

What is bespoke career research?

This is a research based service which Jurupa have created to service a niche requirement in the market. We are addressing the challenges which are faced by time-poor professionals who are actively planning the next step in their career, but are restricted by the all too familiar challenges of a limited schedule and a lack of appropriate connections in their network.

Our approach

We will schedule a discovery call with you and gather detailed information around your desired career aims & objectives along with target verticals, desired compensation range and geographical responsibilities. Having gathered this information, we will jointly agree on a strategy which enables us to accurately identify a pre-agreed number of target organisations who would represent a relevant match to your own career objectives.

Once we have been instructed to go ahead, you will receive an email containing your selected report within no more than 10 working days.

Benefits

- Significant savings in time & effort
- Jurupa will operate with discretion at all times (as per your instruction)
- Access to our proven expertise & network
- Visibility on current market conditions
- Company snapshots where applicable
- Full ownership of report (yours to utilise as you see fit)
- A one off cost

What are the options?

Jurupa currently offer two defined service levels for our bespoke career reporting solutions. Our Foundation level report is designed to provide a valuable snapshot of companies in the marketplace who correspond with your desired career move, whereas our upgraded Facilitator level report goes a step further by providing a more extensive summary of potential targets.

Foundation

What is included?

- 25 target companies, researched and profiled to meet with the pre-determined parameters as set out in the discovery call
- A bespoke report which contains a company overview for each of the 25 organisations. This will provide a summary of their market positioning and why they represent a realistic target.
- Website, name & job title of 2 appropriate contacts at each target company
- Jurupa will pass on details of any relevant career opportunities which exist within those organisations

Facilitator

What is included?

- 35 target companies, research and profiled to meet with the pre-determined parameters as set out in the discovery call
- A bespoke report which contains a more detailed company overview for each of the 35 organisations. This will include information pertaining to the number of employees, any notable company developments in the preceding 12 months and investment rounds.
- Website, name & job title of 2 appropriate contacts at each target company
- Jurupa will pass on details of any relevant career opportunities which exist within those organisations
- We can introduce you via email (or phone were possible) to the contacts within the organisation whom we have identified (as above)
- We are able to provide the target company's Glassdoor rating
- We are able to provide the approval rating of that company's CEO
