

A blurred photograph of a modern office hallway with people walking. The image is overlaid with a semi-transparent dark grey filter. The text is centered in the middle of the image.

Jurupa

The search is over

Career mapping services

Outsourced recruitment solutions | Permanent retained search | Contract & temporary recruitment placement

How to stand out from the crowd

The vast majority of search firms focus exclusively on fulfilling job orders on behalf of their clients, meaning that unless the target candidate's profile falls precisely within narrowly defined boundaries, they are unlikely to receive an approach from the headhunter. Jurupa's aim is to provide a more rounded 360 degree offering by lending equal assistance to the candidate in their own job search.

Many candidates rely on referrals within their own network to secure them their next role, but what about those who do not have that facility to rely upon?

At Jurupa, we recognise that finding a new role can be an endeavour in itself, therefore we have devised a suite of candidate-oriented modular solutions to help the candidate gain a competitive edge.

How we will help

CV review

In a fiercely competitive labour market, it is vital that your CV should carry the required impact in order to unlock professional opportunities. Serving effectively as your “personal sales brochure,” the importance of possessing an effective resume cannot be understated.

If writing resumes and covering letters is not your strong point, fear not – Jurupa are here to help you optimise your personal brand and create a winning strategy to get in front of the companies that excite you.

We will begin with a full appraisal of your existing resume, offering insights and recommendations along the way whilst establishing a clear understanding of what you are trying to achieve and enabling the best route to optimising your success rate.

Mapping out the market

The best roles are generally hidden and therefore rarely advertised. At Jurupa, we know that busy executives seldom have sufficient bandwidth to scour the market, shake trees and call in favours to secure their next career move.

This is a research-based service which Jurupa have created to service a niche requirement in the market. We are addressing the challenges which are faced by time-poor professionals who are actively planning the next step in their career, but are restricted by the all too familiar challenges of a limited schedule and a lack of appropriate connections in their network.

The end result is a carefully crafted report containing a selection of prospective employers who sit exactly within your desired search parameters.

Let Jurupa take care of it so that you can remained focused on what you do best.

Interview preparation

Once the process of polishing your resume is successfully completed and you have gathered a selection of prime target organisations ready to target, it is crucial to consider your approach and ensure that you have your unique pitch figured out.

Prior to sending applications, we recommend ensuring that the remainder of your online profile is secured and stands ready for examination by discerning HR leaders, hiring managers or talent acquisition professionals. Consider how your social media channels portray you. Do they contain any easily accessible content which could damage your image when applying for a new role?

Jurupa can offer assistance in optimising your LinkedIn profile, creating covering letters where appropriate, in devising a compelling pitch that is uniquely related to you & which will secure the attention of key stakeholders and if required, the creation of a video clip for candidate profiling purposes.

Execution

Having taken great care to prepare your resume, identify the right target organisations and perfect your pitch, the key to successfully securing a handful of job offers is to execute the application process effectively.

Jurupa can assist you in identifying and reaching the most suitable stakeholders within your target organisation and in crafting convincing pitches that will grab attention and get you in front of the right people. Best of all, having paid for the bespoke market mapping report, it remains yours and you are free to use it as you see fit in order to assist your job search and/or monitor the companies contained within the report. Ultimately, our aim is the win-win and we want you to succeed.

Benefits

- ✓ Significant savings in time & effort
- ✓ Jurupa will operate with discretion at all times (as per your instruction)
- ✓ Access to our proven expertise & network
- ✓ Gain visibility into unicorn companies of the future
- ✓ Company overview snapshots available to aid your research
- ✓ Full ownership of the report
- ✓ An affordable, modular pricing structure

Pricing

What is included

2.5 hours to critique your CV, make extensive edit suggestions, provide advice around covering letter and create a pitch to prospective employers.

2.5 hours to devise a compelling covering letter, revisit your LinkedIn page, offer coaching and advice around the creation of a video clip.

2.5 hours to create a report of 25 target organisations complete with company snapshot and overview of current advertised vacancies.

2.5 hours to execute the process of targeting the organisations contained within the market mapping report as agreed with the candidate.

£250 per module or £900 for all 4 modules when purchased together.

How do we get started?

Get in touch with us to learn more about how Jurupa can help you.

T: +44 (0) 203 928 1966

E: info@jurupa.co

W: www.jurupa.co

